ACADEMIC YEAR 2025-2026

PRESENTATION

Loro Parque Fundación is a non-profit organization whose foundational objectives include the conservation of endangered species and their habitats, the promotion of scientific research aimed at the conservation of biodiversity as well as education and awareness of the threats affecting the planet.

Driven by its spirit of collaboration with university education in the Canary Islands and seeking to train professionals with knowledge in animal welfare and biodiversity conservation, Loro Parque Fundación has created a Master's scholarship program for students from the Canary Islands and Cape Verde. This initiative aims to support graduates from the Canary Islands and Cape Verde who have decided to pursue a career focused on Health, Animal Welfare, and the conservation of fauna, especially endangered and/or threatened species.

The objective of these scholarships is to stimulate professional careers that contribute to greater animal welfare and promote biodiversity conservation on a planet facing the sixth mass extinction.

First. Purpose of the Call

This call is intended to support recent graduates residing in the Canary Islands or Cape Verde to cover the tuition or part of the tuition for master's programs that include content related to Health, Animal Welfare, biodiversity conservation, and fauna protection.

Second. Funding

Third. Types of Scholarships

The financial aid will consist of a maximum amount of 1,000 euros per student. A minimum of 6 scholarships will be awarded for official master's studies related to biodiversity conservation and 15 for official master's studies related to the health and welfare of wildlife, until the available budget is exhausted.
